

Dainty Foods Demand It

IN EVERY Receipt that calls for cream of tartar, soda, or baking powder, use the Royal Baking Powder. Better results will be obtained because of the absolute purity and great leavening strength of the Royal. It will make the food lighter, sweeter, of finer flavor, more digestible and wholesome. It is always reliable and uniform in its work.

Alum and phosphate baking powders—some of them sold at the same price and some of them cheaper—will make neither dainty nor wholesome food.

BUYS FAIR GROUNDS

The O. R. & N. has purchased Guild's Lake, and property extending from a point south of the government building to the Willamette, comprising about 250 acres.

The purchase price was in the neighborhood of $250,000.

The land was bought for the North Pacific Terminal Company, and will be used as terminal yards.

It has become necessary for the terminal people to extend their yards, on account of the increasing business incident to the steady and rapid growth of the city, and there was no land to be found nearer the present terminals that was at all available. The yards will be extended, and, while it is not yet definitely decided what will be done with the whole property, it is possible part of the lake may be filled and that a portion of the land will be divided into city lots.

The transfer of a part of the property has already been made, and a check deposited in a local bank to cover it. The purchasers are negotiating for the Goldsmith tract, which contains about 25 acres. This property extends from Thurman street on the south, north to Guild's Lake, and includes the sites of the Forestry, Ori-

Extent of Trust Involved.

The Fieschner property extends from the Administration building to the Massachusetts building, and that of the Meade estate takes in the Manufactures, Mining, Transportation and Agricultural building with the Auditorium. On the south side of Guild's Lake there is about 60 acres.

Inasmuch as no one seems to know for whom the property is wanted, the holders sold at a remarkably low figure.

Is Analyzing Nehalem Beeswax.

At the last meeting of the Oregon State Association of Science, Dr. Coghill, of Pacific University, was elected corresponding secretary. A sample of beeswax from Nehalem was given to Prof. Bradley to analyze. Several pieces of the wax have been picked up at different places on the Nehalem, and its origin is a mystery. Professor Bradley announces that he will be able to give the result of his work by the end of the week.

TO FIRE IMMENSE BLAST

120 Tons of Powder Will Break Two Million Tons of Rock

Explosion of the heaviest blast ever held on the Pacific coast will occur on the north bank of the Columbia river, near Castle Rock, within a few weeks. One hundred and twenty tons of black powder will be used and the amount of basaltic rock to be thrown into the river is computed at 2,000,000 tons.

Charles Ladd is to establish a rock quarry at Castle Rock. Gangs of rock drillers have been at work there for four months. The rock that will be loosened up is said to be the best for jetty purposes so far discovered in the Northwest and the mass shattered from the bluff will probably be used on the jetty at the mouth of the Columbia when the next contract is let for the government.

The face of the cliff to be blasted out is 520 feet long and 800 feet high. Three tunnels each 125 feet long have been driven into this cliff and at the inner ends T-shaped drifts 80 feet long have been run. In each end of these drifts 20 tons of black powder will be placed.

The tunnels will then be filled to the mouth and tamped into solidity. The six powder mines will be fired simultaneously and the side of the bluff will be lifted bodily into the river.

Peter Young, a rock-worker of many years' experience, is superintendent of the work. Cost of this huge blast is estimated at $20,000.

The largest blast fired heretofore in the Northwest was that at Hugbee a few years ago, when 64 tons of powder were fired. This blast scattered the face of the bluff across the tracks of the Astoria railroad and put a stop to traffic for several weeks.

"One would think that the detonation of the Castle Rock blast would be heard in Portland," said Dan Kern, railroad builder, but it will not. The powder is so deeply buried in the side of the mountain that there will be practically no report. Its entire explosive force will be absorbed in rending the great bluff. Vibration may be felt in this city, but there will be no audible sign.
